Fraser Remains School Board Chairman

Trustee Hope Returns to Board—
Motion States Charge Unwarranted He Tried to Oust Ford.

Following are the minutes of a regular meeting of the school trustees held on Friday, July 30, at 7:30 p.m. Greenhalgh-Fleming: That Geo. Hope's resignation be not accepted. Sharp-Greenhalgh: That W. Fraser be confirmed in office as chairman of the board.

Fleming-Greenhalgh: That the board go on record in absolving G. Hope, former chairman, from the charges in reference to the ousting of James Ford, which appeared in the July 1 issue of The Coleman Journal and the July 5 issue of The Lethbridge Herald, as these charges were untrue and unwarranted.

Tenders for school supplies were left in the hands of the works and property committee. Applications from teachers were ordered filed. J. S. D'Appollonia's account was ordered paid, and the offer of Herb Sherratt for purchase of steam furnace in the old bank school was not accepted.

J. S. D'Appollonia's tender re repairs on Central school and for a new coal bin was left in the hands of the works and property committee.

Trustee Hope was appointed as representative of the board to appear before the Board of Reference in Calgary on August 3, in connection with termination of Principal Hoyle's contract, against which the latter is appealing. R. F. Barnes, barrister, was appointed to accompany Mr. Hope.

Moved by Greenhalgh and Fleming: That F. B. VanDuzee be appointed secretary for August, during the remaining month of Secretary Ford's leave of absence.

Discount on school taxes was extended for a period of two weeks, and a vote of thanks passed to Miss Lees for her work as secretary during July.

Who Is Telling The Truth?

Public May Judge From the Record of Actions of Trustee Hope in Efforts to Appoint His Son-in-Law.

A MOTION from the school trustees calls for a little comment, not with the desire to create antagonism, but merely to allow the people to judge for themselves. The July 1 issue of The Journal carries as a headline: "Chairman Wants Son-in-Law as Secretary; Would Oust J. Ford, Now on Three Months Leave."

The point in the motion we take issue with, which is granted in this issue, is that which states our report was untrue. At a meeting following the publication of this headline and the article accompanying it, a vote was taken after considerable discussion, whereby Miss Gladys Lees was appointed secretary for the month of July. William Fraser was in the chair when the vote was taken, Trustee Hope stepping aside owing to the fact that his son-in-law was in the running for the position. Despite the fact that all members are in good faith bound to abide by the will of the majority, immediately the vote had been taken Mr. Hope handed in a written resignation and left the meeting, very much angered, not waiting for the proper adjournment. During the month of July, the trustees desired him to return as a trustee, Mr. Fraser remaining as chairman. The action in connection with the appeal of Principal Hoyle against his dismissal possibly was the reason they desired to have Trustee Hope back on the board, as he was a member during the time the incidents on which is based the termination of the principal's contract occurred. Now his son-in-law has been appointed for a month, and all is well again with Mr. Hope. We leave the ratapatters to form their own opinions as to who is telling the truth—Mr. Hope or The Journal.

The Polish Society dance last Saturday night in aid of Paul Yagos was quite a success, the music of the Bluebirds Orchestra being particularly good.

A SIGNAL LINK OF EMPIRE

Winging its epic flight from Ireland to Newfoundland, the great flying boat, the "Caledonia", was in touch with ground stations continually by radio.

Before rising from Botwood on the last leg of his journey, and all the way up the St. Lawrence to Montreal, Captain Wilcockson was in touch with St. Hubert Airport, where the very latest type Northern Electric radio transmitter is in use.

Road Program Announced

An ambitious program of hard surfacing the main intersections of town was announced by Mayor Patinson this week. Work has started on the road from McDonald's corner on 2nd street east to the hospital. Upon completion of this road, work will begin on Mayfair Avenue, between hospital and Motordrome, and Paulson Avenue, between International office and Holy's Grocery. The road leading from the bank to the tennis courts will also be hard surfaced to complete the year's program.

West Coleman residents are now enjoying the benefits of a dustless highway since completion of the main highway to the bottom of Carbondale hill. Small holes which have appeared in the road just completed will be filled up as soon as possible, stated Mayor Patinson.

Hoyle's Appeal Heard by Board

The appeal of David Hoyle, against dismissal from the Coleman school staff by the Coleman school board, was heard in Calgary on Tuesday by the Board of Reference, Judges Matheson and McDonald presiding. Decision of the Judges is expected to be handed down in a few days. R. F. Barnes, barrister, and Trustee George Hope represented the school board.

ARE YOU AMONG THOSE OF 24 YEARS AGO?

Old Photograph Shows School Children Who Have Since Scattered Far and Wide; Many Still Live Here Thanks to Mrs. J. L. Lonsbury. The Journal was loaned a photograph of two classes of Coleman school children in 1913. The faces are so small that it would not have made a satisfactory reproduction, but with the aid of one or two of those who were in the picture, the names of quite a number were secured. Here they are:

Ed. LeGal, Mae Moores, Fred Lees, Gladys Lees, Dorothy Graham, Al Lonsbury, Jane Appoll, Lottie Eccott, Phanie Fraser, Earl Price, W. Lonsbury, May Machin, Gordon Ross, Henry Cleas, George Slot, Louise Price, Rhoda Antrobus, Pete Kelly, Hannah Derbyshire, Ida Walholme, William Ford, Russell Vincent, John Willey, Annie Kovak, Steve Machin. There were many more in the picture, but The Journal's scrutineer was unable to remember all of them.

If any who are still here would like to see the picture, Mrs. Lonsbury undoubtedly would be pleased to loan it to them—provided they don't forget to bring it back.

William Wright Died Last Week

Made Brave Struggle to Survive But Internal Malady Caused Death After 34 years residence in Nova Scotia, British Columbia and Alberta, "Bill" Wright passed on, death coming at 8 p.m. on July 29 in Coleman hospital. For the past few years he had suffered, and at times rallied and resumed his active interest in local sports. About three weeks ago he was compelled to again enter hospital, and though at times he appeared to be improving, the call came which ended his sufferings.

He was born in Ashton-Macdesfield, Lancashire, 66 years ago. In 1903, with his late wife, he emigrated to Glace Bay, N.S., working in No. 2 mine. In 1910 they came to Michel, and in 1911 they purchased a ranch at Creston, where they lived till 1918. Coming to Coleman, he worked in the McGillivray mine. Later he and William Bell entered into partnership whereby they leased the old Grand Union hotel, he retiring from the partnership when the new hotel was built. His wife died in 1918, a victim of the influenza epidemic which swept Canada in that year, and she was buried in Coleman cemetery.

Relatives living here are Mrs. Chas. Makin, and Mrs. Tom Jackson, who are sisters of the late Mrs. Wright, and Mrs. Charles Walker, of Cumberland, V.I., is also a sister.

FUNERAL ON SUNDAY

The funeral service was held at the Crow's Nest Funeral Home on Sunday at 2 p.m. In accordance with the wishes of Mr. Wright, Andrew Dow and Enoch Williams conducted the services and performed the graveside rites. The pall-bearers were six members of Coleman Canadians hockey team, viz.: Jim Fraser, Bill Fraser, Bill Balloch, Rudolph Kwanee, Joe Jenkins and V. Cologrosso.

WHO DID?

The following is from Ernest F. Gare, editor of the Trochu Tribune: "Just to keep the record straight, Albertans are advised to remember back a couple of years and recall whether it was the banks in Alberta who promised to introduce Social Credit or Mr. Wm. Aberhart."

ROD AND GUN CLUB PRIZE WINNERS

Twelve ardent fishermen of the Coleman Rod and Gun Club cast their lines on the North Fork river last Saturday, in quest of the handsome club prizes given to the winners of the various competitions. Prize winners were: heaviest basket, Joe Jenkins; mixed basket, Robt. Penman; biggest speckle, Geo. Birchell; biggest grayling, Edgar Thomas.

Hurkot's Bird Wins Race

Calgary, Coleman and Cranbrook Clubs to Compete in 125 Mile Young Bird's Race.

Eleven of the twelve members of Coleman Homing Society flew their young birds from Nanton, approximately 125 miles airline. The birds competing range in age from two to four months, and in their first flight made a very satisfactory performance.

The birds were liberated at 10:10 a.m. Saturday, July 31, and were clocked in as follows:

J. Hurkot	11:56-39 a.m.
F. Eyzarack	12:10-41 noon
F. Beddington	12:17-48 p.m.
A. Beigun	12:23-27 p.m.
C. Makin	12:23-42 p.m.
W. Roughhead	12:24-10 p.m.
M. Nemmett	12:26-18 p.m.
T. Cornill	12:26-27 p.m.
W. Fryde	12:31-40 p.m.
M. Farcon	12:32-28 p.m.
J. Claes	12:47-52 p.m.

Prizes donated by S. Janostak and C. Nicholas. Next race next at Calgary, August 7 or 8.

Particulars will be announced later of a race to be flown between Calgary, Cranbrook and Coleman Homing clubs. The Calgary birds will fly from Cranbrook, the Cranbrook birds will fly from Calgary, the distance being 125 miles airline between the two cities. Coleman birds will fly from a point north of Calgary making it also 125 miles.

The race will be flown as club versus club, also as a race between the members of each club. Young birds only will compete.

CORRECTION

In reporting the death last week of Mrs. Destobel, an error was made in stating her wedding took place in 1918. It should have been 1916, therefore this correction is made. Immediate relatives present at the funeral were deceased's mother, Mrs. John Farmer, of Nanaimo, and Mr. Farmer, Fred and Lester Wheatcroft, brothers; and three sisters, Mrs. McGillivray, of Coleman; Mrs. Luck, of Drumheller, and Mrs. Carter, of Nelson.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. Alfred Destobel and family desire to thank their friends for their kindness, letters of sympathy and floral offerings in their bereavement; also the doctors and staff of the hospital, and all who loaned cars.

FLOWERS: From Fred, Alice, Gertrude, Daisy, Helen Mother and Dad; Ed., Eva and family; Bertha, George and family; Mr. and Mrs. A. Comes and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. "Lack of sufficient business to make it worth while" was the reason given by Mr. Knappman, proprietor of Knappman's Hardware and Heating for going out of business in Coleman after having operated here for the past eighteen months. Mr. Knappman closed the doors of his plumbing shop here on Friday last and has moved his stock to his store at Blairmore where he will continue business.

Lack of Press Support in Alberta Very Crippling Says American Visitor

Happier Conditions in U.S.A. Where Papers Are Recognized For Advertising Power

COUNCIL BUSINESS IS PAID
ADVERTISING

Surprised at High Standard Alberta Newspapers With Meagre Revenue (High River Times)

Speaking at Calgary recently, I. H. Jensen, of Boone, Iowa, made the following comment:

"I have found Alberta people much friendlier and less commercially-minded than we are down in the States. You all seem to take time to talk with a stranger without apparently reckoning on what you are going to get out of it. Of course, I don't like your roads, but I realize that this is a young country. You have the advantages of a young country in being less commercial. Bye and bye you will have good roads, but you will then start speeding up and developing the tension characteristics of the older parts of the continent."

Coming to talk of newspaper livelihood, Mr. Jensen was surprised at the half-hearted support given the press here. "I have seen several of your newspapers in Alberta, and they are of very high standard. I certainly compliment your weekly here, but you are laboring under very hard conditions. It would seem that up here the weekly press is still on a sort of charity basis, without the businessmen of the town realizing how important a medium the newspaper is, the most important element in any community."

"In our state the press is on a substantial assured footing, and its importance is fully recognized. It has sources of revenue apparently denied to the newspapers of Alberta. For one thing, the town council minutes complete are paid for. That is compulsory. It is the business of the taxpayer to know what his money is going for, and the services of publication has a definite monetary value. Municipal council meetings would go under the same head. Then we have a county administration for roads, parks, etc. A report of each meeting of this board is required to be issued in the papers having largest circulation, and this copy is paid for at a good rate. Nothing legal can be done without publication in the newspapers. The banks must issue periodic statements. And added to that is the good general advertising of merchandise.

"The room for improvement that I can see in the Alberta press, is a recognition by the public of its vital importance to the community, and the necessity for its maintenance. This is realized by our governing bodies, who go on the principle that the business of the people should be made available to the people through the press and that this service is legitimate expenditure. With us, the press is a great controlling body, disciplined within its own organization—serving as best it can to promote any good cause and maintain honest standards.

But reports of business proceedings are reckoned as having a cash value to the community. I confess I do not see how you continue to publish such a high standard of newspaper with such meagre support."

The squeaks and rattles of many cars vanish into thin air when riding on Coleman's new hard surfaced roads.

Mrs. Askew, of The Pantry, left for Lethbridge last week end, where she entered a city hospital, undergoing an operation on Monday.

Mrs. George Jenkins and family returned Monday evening from Seebie, where they have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. Wesley for the past month.

Two Rare Qualities

Famous Conductor Of Music Has
Unusual Memory And Acute
Hearing

In all probability Signor Toccanti will return to London next year to give another series of concerts for the B.B.C. By common consent the series he has just completed has established him as the greatest living conductor.

He has two rare qualities—a phenomenal memory and abnormally acute hearing. He learns every score, however complicated, off by heart, and never forgets a note.

Recently, in America, he told one of his players that he had played a wrong note. The player was able to prove that he had played the note as it was printed.

Then Toccanti established, by producing the composer's manuscript, that the printer had blundered.

On another occasion he stopped the orchestra in the middle of a loud passage, and said, "I cannot see far enough to tell who it is, but I think one of the first violins has forgotten to remove his flute."

A mute is a little wooden attachment for deadening the tone. And he was right again!

Girdling The World

British Air Service May Soon Encircle The Globe

Before long the same system will be in use on the route to India and Australia. An extension to New Zealand is also intended. Nor does the vision of the originators of this scheme end at Auckland. Pan-American Airways are sending their flying-boats across the Pacific. Why should not Imperial Airways do the same?

It is no fanciful dream but a practical possibility that British boats should in due course fly from New Zealand to the western shore of America, make their way up to Vancouver, and then link with the transcontinental air service which Canada is now busily establishing. Before the Pacific link has come into being we shall know more about the prospects of an air service across the Atlantic. If it proves feasible to fly across both oceans, then British air services will put a girdle round the earth.—Manchester Guardian.

MAKE THESE MODELS AT HOME
—TWO EASY APRONS FROM ONE PATTERN

By Anne Adams

Housekeeping's really lots of fun when you own two such captivating aprons as these! The busiest homemaker will find it fun to spend a few pleasant hours stitching up both versions of Pattern 4464, for these two "rock savers" are simple as can be to make! Version "A" is perfect in dainty chambray or dimity, its flat-fronted yoke and unusual pockets trimmed by crisp fabric. Wouldn't you like Version "B" of sturdy checked gingham or percale with bright-headed buttons to accent waistline and fetching points? The "anchor" back insures shoulder straps against slipping.

Pattern 4464 is available in sizes small, medium and large. Small size apron: A requires 2½ yards 33 inch fabric and 2½ yards ruffling; Apron B 2½ yards. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coin or stamps (coin preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly: Size, Name, Address and Style Number, and send order to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., 176 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Marquis Wheat

Fame Of Western Wheat Largely
Due To Work Of Sir Chas.
Saunders

Thousands of the elevators which dot the western Canadian prairies are there directly as the result of Sir Charles E. Saunders' development of Marquis wheat. For this wheat ripened from one week to 10 days earlier than its predecessor, Red Fife, thus eliminating part of the two chief dangers of western Canadian agriculture of those days—frost and rust.

From 1915 to the present, when foreign wheat buyers have thought of Canadian hard wheat, they have thought of Marquis. It has been the outstanding bread wheat of the world and now its high milling qualities make the base for the development of practically every one of the new rust-resistant and drought-resistant wheats with which plant breeders are working. Very few of the newer varieties, designed to eliminate risks of prairie farming, have been developed without a strain of Marquis somewhere in the process.

The origination of Marquis about 1904 and its development, refinement and multiplication between then and 1911, when it first became generally known to farmers, was the work of Sir Charles, son of the originator of the experimental farm system and a trained worker in chemistry and biology. From 1911 on a great many persons took a hand in the spread of Marquis wheat to general use in all three prairie provinces and to the United States where it has been the chief variety for the northern spring wheat growing states.

Professor Manley Champlin, of the University of Saskatchewan, recalled the part he played in the distribution of the seed. In 1913 when he was working in North Dakota, he was called to South Carolina to judge the wheat shown at the International seed show.

There he saw a sample of Marquis wheat, grown and exhibited by Dr. Seager Wheeler, of Roethorn. It was a splendid sample and it took the seedling. Professor Champlin said he could still see that wheat in his imagination.

It was experiments with wheats of this kind that made the Hudson's Bay officers of those days scorn all suggestions that the prairies might be planted with a great agricultural area. They had tried and they knew it would not grow wheat successfully. The work of men like Sir Charles Saunders and those who brought in the first Red Fife wheat was the factor that radically changed the development of this part of Canada.

Travel Etiquette

Extracts From Old Railway Time
Table Found In France

Amusing injunctions to travellers are contained in a railway timetable, almost a century old, which has just been discovered in Rouen, France. Here are some extracts:

"Every time a voyager desires to change his seat, he must notify the conductor and show his ticket."

"Smoking is forbidden in railroad stations and trains."

"No embarrassing packages may be carried by voyagers into railroad trains."

"Travellers are warned against getting acquainted too easily and too speedily with fellow voyagers. A cautious reticence is recommended."

"Dogs must be brought to the station ten minutes before the departure of the train."

Persons with good eyes can see 11 or 12 stars in the bowl of the Big Dipper.

ARTICLE NO. 4.
HOW DOES CANCER SPREAD?

A cancer is extremely small at first. It consists at the beginning of a single cell. If it were possible to discover a cancer at this date, there would be no cancer death. The original cancer grows by division of the cell. The cell divides and subdivides rather rapidly, far more rapidly than the normal cells of our body. Through this division of cells, cancer begins to infiltrate itself into the neighboring tissues of the body. At this stage cancer is still local and readily cured. The length of time in which a cancer remains local is unknown; the period varies in different kinds of cancer and in different tissues of the body.

After a time, cancer spreads by way of the lymphatics, tiny channels found all over the body. The cancer cells pass through the lymphatic system and are caught up by the lymphatic glands. Thus, for example, a cancer of the breast will sooner or later, if it is not removed or destroyed, appear in the glands of the axilla. At this stage cancer is no longer local. It has become a serious matter for the individual. Prompt and complete removal not only of the affected organ, but of all affected glands is essential to cure at this stage.

At a later date, the cancer cells spread through the blood-vessels and in this way reach the remotest parts of the body. Thus a cancer of the breast may appear in a bone, in the lung, the liver, the brain or other part. The spread of cancer is always by means of its own cells. A cancer which has spread from the breast to the brain, for example, is composed, not of brain cells, but of breast cells. This fact proves that cancer is spread, not through the medium of germs, but by the dispersion of the cells of the original cancer.

Cancer is a living thing, and like all living things, cannot last forever. A few cancers reach the term of their natural life and before they kill the patient. What sometimes happens is this: the doctor declares with truth that an advanced cancer is hopelessly inoperable and that he can do no more for the patient; the patient in desperation tries some quick remedy. Then the cancer begins to die and the patient begins to live again. Not one in 10,000 cancers is so obliging as to die before its human host. The incredible thing has happened though: the cancer possessing a low order of vitality or because of the high resistance of the body. This fact is encouraging because research into cancer may discover a means of accelerating the exhaustion of cancer vitality or of increasing bodily resistance to malignancy.

Article No. 5 will be "Early Signs of Cancer."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

AUGUST 8

GOD FEEDS A PEOPLE

Golden text: Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father, James 1:17.

Lesson: Exodus 16:1-17:7.

Devotional reading: John 6:32-40.

Explanations And Comments

The People Complain of the Lack of Food, Exodus 16:1-3. This is the second recorded "mourning" of the Israelites. They even accused Moses of having brought them forth into the wilderness to kill them with hunger!

"It is worthy of remark that those who are the most unworthy of liberty are wont to behave most ungratefully towards their deliverers." (Milton.)

Would that we had died by the hand of Jehovah in the land of Egypt, the people cried, "when we sat by the flesh-pots, when we did eat bread to the full." It was the habit of the Egyptians to feed well those whom they employed in forced labor, we are told.

Food is Promised, Exodus 16:4-12. At once we are made flesh and in the morning ye shall be filled with bread, and ye shall know that I am Jehovah your God, wrote a prophet centuries later (Isaiah 66:13). That promise was well based upon the experience of the nation.

The Nature of the Food, Exodus 16:13-15. At evening quails came up and covered the camp. In March and April quails come from the interior of Africa to Syria, crossing the peninsula as Upper Canada, and in the fall they return. Being heavy birds, they alight upon the ground and are then easily captured by hand.

Direction for its Gathering, Exodus 16:16-17. Moses directed every man to gather according to his eating; an omer for each person. As much as you can eat, about seven plums a head, for every person in your household. (Moffatt's translation.)

Water from the Rock at Rephidim, Exodus 17:1-7. By stages the Israelites travelled from the wilderness of Sin to Rephidim, and there they encamped, despite the lack of water. "Give us water," they demanded of Moses. Not only did they murmur because of the lack of water, but they were so infuriated as well as embittered that Moses cried to God saying, "What shall I do with the people? They are almost ready to stone me." Moses was directed to use his rod and smite the rock, and water gushed forth.

According to an explorer, a tiger will not harm you if you carry a white walking cane. That might depend, we should think, on how fast you carry it.

THE CANADIAN ADVENTURE
TRIP OF BOB SIM, AN ONTARIO FARM BOY

No. 7 of a Series of 16 Letters

Bob relaxes at home for a few days—reminds on the Maritimes and Ontario—then on he goes West, and further West, stopping only for the Pacific Ocean.

The Home Farm, Holstein, Ont. (Special Despatch by Bob Sim.)—Home again after three thousand miles of hitch hiking through the Maritime provinces. After pouring heel and toe over hot pavements and dusty country lanes, after waving frantic thumbs at passing motorists, there comes a time for pausing, for thought, and for a moment of rest. Of course when you get home everyone was surprised to see me, because they thought I was still in the east, everyone in the house and in the kitchen looking for me since a week ago Thursday, which is I suppose what all good mothers do. After you get back from a trip like that you want to sleep. You want three good meals a day. Perhaps you don't like to eat, but my first impulse was to pull on my shoes and walk out on the lawn and breathe the fresh air. After a few brief days for such luxuries before taking off for the mild Pacific, and our various Canadian friends. But more of that at the end of the letter.

Ontario Revisited
Who was it who said, "Breathe there a man with soul so dead, who never to himself hath said, 'This is my own, my native land?' Whoever he was, he did not belong to Canada. For this land is so diverse and so varied that one can not put his finger on any one thing, or place, and say with confidence: 'This is Canada!'"

A Maritime business man said to me: "We Businessmen do not tear our things like you people in Upper Canada. (Ontario is commonly known as Upper Canada.) We are satisfied with an ordinary income," he went on, "we do not kill ourselves and I am sick of the whole we are happier."

What he meant was that in the east of Canada, there is less industry, business is not so highly developed, there is more time and leisure, and fewer very poor. In Ontario you won't see a yoke of oxen in three days' journey; neither will you see homes so uniformly beautiful and well cared for as in Nova Scotia. Somehow we folk down here can get along with an ox cart, and a horse and buggy, but they insist on fine automobiles, and big houses. Now it is all very well to be industrious and thrifty, but if industry returns to the east, and if generosity, righteousness, and a love of beauty, we should examine our standard of values. Those of us from the rest of Canada have had the privilege of visiting Quebec and the Maritimes should hesitate before we scoff at the people of the east. Things, even if they are a bit different.

Then There Is Western Canada

It would not be fair to my dumb or perhaps my feet to try to hitchhike to Vancouver and back, so I have taken a train. I have been able to persuade three friends of mine to come with me. All three of them are driving a car with a luggage carrier on the back for bedding, utensils, and food. We have no set itinerary but this is roughly the way we will go.

From Holstein to Toronto, then to St. Catharines, and then to Niagara. At the Soo we will leave the Trans-Canada Highway, which will take us through North Bay, Sault Ste. Marie, and Lake Superior. At the Soo we will leave the Trans-Canada crossing into the United States to return to the south of Canada at Fort William. Our course will run due west through Kenora to Winnipeg. We have no plans on how to cross the prairie. We will be taking our time as we are allowing at least seven weeks for the whole trip. The prairie will be our guide, the Pacific Ocean our goal, and the whole continent our road.

Next Week—Next week the four of us will be well on our way and the next letter will come from some where in the north of Ontario. This letter concludes the first part of the Country Life from Coast to Coast series.

According To Hindu Law

Holy Book Damaged By Fire Cannot Be Touched

An iron casket containing a heavy religious volume lies rusting under several fathoms of water in the Gulf of Georgia.

It was ferried there in a small boat from a shore, to which had come a mournful collection of Hindus, following their barefoot leader. The man carried the volume, swathed in gold-worked velvet, on his head, while behind him walked his deputy, showering him with handfuls of rose petals.

Disposition of the 1,900-page holy book followed a fire which destroyed a Sikh Temple in a Fraser River sawmill settlement. According to Hindu holy law, it would be profanation for human hands to touch the book after it had been damaged by fire.

Worn By Many Peers

One bearer of a famous old title was so hard up that he had to hire robes for the Coronation. An American woman visited him and said: "You have such a wonderful title. I suppose your robes are very old?" "Very old," returned the peer dryly, "and worn by more peers than I can count."

CONFERENCE ON CHURCH, COMMUNITY AND STATE AT OXFORD

One of the most important conferences ever held under the auspices of the Universal Christian Council for Life and Work, is taking place at Oxford, England. Referred to as a conference on church, community and state, we see above several of the leaders, including the Archbishop of Canterbury, who was chairman of the opening session.

New Gadget Attached To Signs
Makes Objects Come Alive

A midwestern practical jokesmith wired a huge and useless iron dog, which stands in his front yard, for sound. As visitors entered his driveway, their shadows actuated an electric eye which caused the dog to emit ferocious growls.

Other jokesmiths can now perform similar stunts, because a New York firm has brought out a little metal box, 6 x 6 x 6 inches, with all electrical connections inbuilt. Applied to advertising signs or display windows, the mere wave of a pedestrian's hand will turn on lights, start a washing machine into action, start a radio playing, start anything—Business Week.

Eggs are valuable as food in that they contain fats, iron, proteins, salts, small quantities of carbohydrates, and vitamins A and B.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS of effort in behalf of the community in which he started business was brought to a close on July 27 by the death of Herb G. McCrea, publisher and proprietor of the Hanna Herald. He fought against physical handicaps which in the majority of cases would have been taken as good and sufficient reason to cease further effort. But not so with this stout-hearted publisher, whose 45 years of life ended on a bed of suffering.

HIS WAS no selfish interest in publishing a weekly newspaper. It was not merely to make a living for himself and family. He had always bigger things in mind, and that was the development and welfare of the rural district which surrounded Hanna. Even during dry years, when pessimism prevailed among so many, he was always expressing his faith that times would change, and kept agitating for rehabilitation of the drouth areas by irrigation and by the building of reservoirs and dams.

IT SO OFTEN happens that a man is not appreciated at his true worth till he passes from the scene. His efforts are taken for granted, and very little tangible appreciation is shown. Particularly in newspaper work is this a fact. Let an editor put up a campaign for something of value to his community, and he will receive many praises and maybe criticism as well. But if he should voice the opinions of the minority, whose voices might be drowned out by the majority, then he is threatened with dire consequences. Newspapermen know it only too well, but no true newspaperman will trim his sails to the passing breezes of popular fancy. He will stand by what he believes is right, and this was one of the outstanding traits of Herb McCrea, besides other newspaper publishers who would scorn to play the part of jellyfish.

MEN IN BUSINESS in a small way often fail to realize the value of a community weekly newspaper. Enterprising men and men in big business affairs know that in its field the rural weekly newspaper is as important as the daily. That is why large national advertisers apportion part of their money to the aggressive weekly newspapers. The death of Herb McCrea has brought home to the people of his district and to the province at large the influence which a well conducted weekly newspaper exercises. The tributes from people in many walks of life in Alberta demonstrate the fact.

BY THE TIME this appears in print, we will be a considerable distance from the scene of our labors, consequently we will miss the daily interest and spice of local affairs. One of our annual extravaganzas, if you care to term it as such, is to attend the annual convention of weekly newspaper publishers representative of the nine provinces of Canada. This year they meet in that old city of Halifax, where the provincial government of Premier Angus MacDonald has a little warmer feeling for the gentlemen of the press than has our own high prophet, priest and king of Calgary Prophetic Bible Institute. People from Alberta are viewed with a somewhat suspicious air when they travel to distant fields, and not infrequently pointed questions are asked as to the reason Alberta people fall for this and that kind of doctrine. All we can answer is that there are still some people left who haven't been hypnotized and who believe that sanity in governmental administration will eventually prevail when the smoke gets out of the people's eyes.

Tennis Stars At Calgary

Stark Defeats Balloch; Jenkins
Advances in Ferris Cup; R.
Shone in Secondary Events

Wednesday afternoon saw the last Coleman entry in the men's open singles tennis championship go down to defeat when Balloch bowed himself out before the superior skill of Bill Stark, provincial champion. Balloch put up a good fight, winning the first set 6-4 only to lose the second and third 6-0, 6-3. Shone and Jenkins were defeated on Monday.

Balloch and Whitehead in the men's doubles are reported to be playing well together, and it would be no surprise if they should win this event. Jenkins sprang an upset in the Ferris Cup when he eliminated Severson, a ranking player, in three sets. Shone was defeated in the Ferris Cup by Allan Lutes of Medicine Hat in three hard fought sets. Shone and Jenkins are now playing in the men's secondary singles and doubles. In the mixed doubles, Balloch and Marj. McInnes, a ranking Calgary girl, are holding their end up and are well advanced towards the eighths.

Ed. Whitehead of New Jersey, dealt a severe blow to Calgary hopes when he blasted Doug. Gunn from the courts 6-1, 6-1. Gunn was seeded number two and given a good chance to win the men's singles title. Whitehead is now expected to coast into the final where he will probably meet Stark.

For The Future

"Oh, Death, where is thy sting, oh, Grave, thy victory?"

All Christian denominations teach that there is a life hereafter and that death is merely a translation for the soul of the individual from this sphere to another where a brighter existence awaits, no matter what form it may take. Few there are who do not subscribe to this belief. In fact, this hope and belief is the basis that largely governs, sometimes consciously and sometimes unconsciously, the course of thought and action of the great majority in the Christian countries of the world throughout their earthly lives.

It is this conviction which sustains the dying in their last earthly moments and which gives courage and hope to the bereaved relatives and friends after the first impact of grief and sorrow as temporary severance has passed.

Assuming this belief to be well founded, and bearing in mind it is one of the tenets of all the Christian religions, it would appear that the natural, the inevitable concomitant of death and burial is reverent acquiescence in the thought that one more has passed to better and brighter scenes and a more perfect life.

And this thought surely should find expression in the surroundings of the dead—the grounds in which are interred the mortal remains of those who have passed on—the cemeteries of the countryside and of the cities and towns.

Yet, how often one hears the comment: "I would not like to be buried here," as the speaker gazes over a wind-swept, bleak hillside, dotted with tombstones, some cracked, others pitching forward or backward or sideways, a few perched precariously on the branches of withered flowers, the entire site devoid of shade or beauty, except one or two sickly trees and a luxuriant growth of weeds.

Black, bare, unkempt and desolate, such places can hardly be said to connote the thought that the cemetery is the symbol of the entry to a new and glorious life, but rather the termination of a drab career.

It was a picture such as this which confronted Robert C. Eaton when a banking institution with which he was connected acquired a Los Angeles cemetery by mortgage foreclosure in 1917. "Eaton shuddered at the gloom and ghouliness of the bankrupt graveyard," to quote Bruce Barton in an article relating Eaton's experience in the Reader's Digest. "This, thought Eaton grimly," quoting Mr. Barton further, "is the sacred ground of a so-called Christian people. Over everyone of these graves have been uttered words of hope, the promise of eternal life. . . . Where was any sign of faith here? The rotting trees, the unkempt lawn, the gloomy monuments of all shapes and sizes—everything spoke of Death."

Eaton resolved to make over the cemetery to make it symbolical of the credo: "I believe in a happy Eternal Life." He added another 150 acres to the site. With the permission of relatives, he removed tombstones and substituted for them small artistic, bronze plaques laid flat in the grass. Where no heirs could be found or in the few rare instances where permission was not forthcoming, he arranged plantings to hide the remaining tombstones. He secured the advice of landscape architects, planted the entire property like a park, introduced beautiful statuary, and 20,000 varieties of flowers are already adding their fragrance and beauty to a scene of loveliness.

Provision is made for perpetual care, yet Forest Lawn, says Mr. Barton, "is not a place where only the rich can afford to lie. A grave may be bought for $45 and a funeral there costs as little as $75, including all services."

"People visit Forest Lawn as they would a lovely park, quite naturally at all times; all day long on the lawns children play, the weary come to sit and rest, artists come to sketch its beauties. But especially do they seek it out when confronted by the deeper mysteries of life; more than 7,000 marriages have been performed in the little churches; parents think there is nothing strange about bringing their babies to be baptized here. Forest Lawn offers us evidence that a cemetery need not be a place of gloom and despair, but a garden of memory in accord with the true Christian conception of a happy eternal life," says Mr. Barton.

In this country which has not access to great wealth and where population is comparatively sparse, the cost of construction and maintenance of such cemeteries as Forest Lawn might not be feasible in small communities, but much might be done with voluntary communal labor and the use of native trees and shrubs to convert bleak and unkempt cemeteries into places of rest and beauty, emblematic of the faith of the residents, with the expenditure of little or no money.

In some communities a good start has been made in this direction and no doubt others will follow suit and the time will come when practically every cemetery in the country will at least be neat and tidy and many will be beauty spots.

Such places will rob Death of some of its sting and the grave of its victory.

Purchases Totem Pole

Duchess of Kent Liked Totem Pole Carved By Esquimaux Indian

The Duchess of Kent met her first totem pole at the Canadian booth at the International Red Cross Bazaar in London. It was a toy carved by Louie Charley, Songhee Indian, of Esquimaux, B.C., and caught her eye while Mrs. Vincent Massey was introducing those in charge of the stall. Centre of attraction at the Canadian booth were two huge dolls dressed by nurses at the Regina General Hospital and the City Hospital School of Nursing in Saskatoon. At other stalls were presents sent in from nursing associations from all over the world to be sold by stallholders dressed in the national costumes of more than twenty countries. The proceeds are to aid in raising the standard of nursing by augmenting the scholarship fund for nurses from abroad.

Dogs In The Movies

Go Temperamental And Put On Airs Just Like Actors

Studios must fight temperamental dogs as well as actors. Like their human fellow-artists, animals perform just so long before they become difficult to handle. Henry East of Hollywood, who provides the screen with a large share of its animals, has learned that it takes an ordinary mongrel dog about eighteen months to become an aristocrat and worthless, so far as a career is concerned. There is always a demand for the common or alley variety of cur which East picks up at the pound and which he breeds and rears quickly to training and the attention given them on sets and are proficient actors in no time at all. But eventually they "go Hollywood," begin holding their tails high, putting on airs and expecting the attention that has been given them because of their appeal. When they reach such a stage, East takes them off the active list and they find homes with directors on whose sets they have worked, for they are always in great demand.

Keeping Up With Times

Ability To Make Changes One Secret Of Business Success

To-day we have to put on running shoes to keep up with the procession. Improvements are coming so fast that we can hardly keep track of them.

As Nelson Jackson says: "You cannot do to-day's job with yesterday's methods and be in business tomorrow." There is much truth in that.

A writer for the Saturday Evening Post once asked Henry Ford—"What about bringing stability to the motor industry?" "Stability!" exclaimed Ford. "Stability is the dead fish floating downstream. The only stability we know in the country is CHANGE."

That was a fine answer. It was a complete answer to the Bolshevik theorists who say that industry must be stabilized by nationalization.

You can measure the efficiency of any business man by his list of improvements. If he has no such list, on paper or in his mind, then he is not efficient.

There are thousands of stabilized mouldy businesses, still using the obsolete methods of thirty years ago. Most of them pass out, but others barely keep alive, and make shillings when they might be making pounds.

A judge asked a woman: "Is your husband strayed?" "Steady, is it?" she replied. "If he were any steadier, he would be dead."

The purpose of every man should be to keep out of the graveyard until he dies. While he is alive, he must act and change and do to-day something better than he did yesterday. There are now so many thinkers and inventors and scientists in the world that the whole of us must keep moving.

At least once a year a man should look at his whole business suspiciously and ask himself "Am I still using anything that is obsolete—anything that is holding me back?"

At least once a month he should ask—"What improvement can I make in my methods or my equipment, to increase the net profits of my business?"

Most of us want security, and too many of us think that change means risk. The fact is that nothing but constant improvement can make any business safe. So, thank God you are alive. Keep moving. Start something. Think of something worth while. Do it now.

THE WORLD MOVES.

Lost Money Through Greed

English Farmer Wanted Exorbitant Price For His Potatoes

The following story by W. L. Clarke appeared in the Windsor Daily Star:

This argument that is going on in England about how many potatoes Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George can plant reminds us of the way the potato market was regulated during the war when Mr. Lloyd George was Prime Minister.

Farmers of England made a killing just like the farmers of Canada. With good supplies short and prices soaring the Government took steps to curb profiteering. It was decided that potatoes could be sold for no more than eight pounds per ton.

One farmer had a crop of many tons of the potatoes, when a likely looking purchaser came along. A conversation something like this followed:

"These are very fine potatoes you have, Mr. —, I'll give you twelve pounds per ton for them, and take the lot."

"You will, eh, well I'll see them all rot in the ground before I take a penny less than twenty pounds per ton."

"Well, Mr. —, I was trying to give you a break. I would have given you twelve pounds for they are fine potatoes. But, if that is the way you feel, I'll take the whole lot at eight pounds. Here are my Government credentials and these potatoes are now under seizure."

The man showed his papers, and in a short time a detachment of soldiers mounted guard over the potatoes. They were confiscated at the eight pounds per ton price, the greed of the farmer doing him out of four pounds per ton.

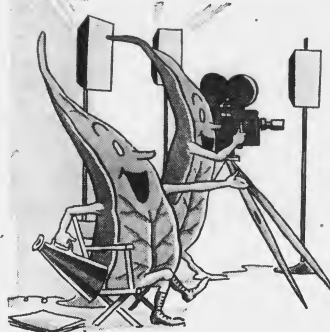

A detour is the roughest distance between two points.

Just In Day's Work

United States Aviator Put Bombing Plane Through Severe Test

Down in New York State, a flier, clad in a heavy leather suit like armor, performed a series of the most thrilling stunts possibly any airman has ever attempted, though he did not do them as stunts, but to actually test out the strength of a new United States bombing plane.

He climbed to a height of 20,000 feet, invisible to the naked eye, but watched through glasses by hundreds of interested scientific men. When he had reached that height he pulled the throttle wide, and with the engine at full speed, drove straight down for the earth, a dive of 15,000 feet or nearly three miles, diving to within a mile of the ground. At that point with a speed of from 500 to 600 miles an hour, or 750 feet a second, the question was whether he could straighten out without tearing the machine to pieces.

The practiced aviator roaring straight down at that phenomenal speed, straightened out, the ship came through safely, and the makers were jubilant. The sensation at the turning point, they said, must be something like driving a car against a stone wall at 50 miles an hour. Twelve times the aviator did the dive, and each time the ship came safely through. Landing it, the aviator drove away, monotonously said "Nice ship." It was a record that potatoes could be sold for no more than eight pounds per ton.

SELECTED RECIPES

CHILI SAUCE

24 large ripe tomatoes
8 large onions
3 large sweet green peppers
1 head celery
1 pt. cider vinegar
1 cup light brown sugar
1 cup Crown Brand Corn Syrup
1/2 teaspoon white pepper
1/2 teaspoon cayenne pepper

Method: Peel and slice the tomatoes; combine with chopped onion. Cover with salt and let stand overnight; drain. Add chopped peppers and celery. Make a syrup of vinegar, sugar, Crown Brand Corn Syrup and seasonings. Add vegetables and cook slowly 5 or 6 hours, or until thick. Bottle hot. Makes five pints.

His Preference

A wealthy Irishman was proud of the opportunity to "show off" on the occasion of a visit to London of one of his compatriots. He invited him to dine at a fashionable restaurant, and seated at the table led off with "Waiter, a couple of cocktails."

Had Two Good Reasons

Ramsay MacDonald Tells Why He Refused The King's Honors

Ramsay MacDonald declined two honors recently, when he was offered an earldom by the King, and was also offered the Order of Merit. Mr. MacDonald's decision not to become a Peer was made on the ground that his place in history was as Labor's first prime minister, and that a peerage would confuse the issue. With regard to the Order of Merit, he had always taken the stand that this should not be given for political services and he was not aware of any other kind of services on his part which would justify it, the Daily Sketch reports.

The Hard Part

Someone wrote to Mark Lemon and asked for instruction in the writing of funny paragraphs. Lemon replied: "It is not at all hard to write funny paragraphs. ## Ambitious Project

Reconstruction Plan In Britain To Absorb Unemployment

A four-year-plan calling for almost complete reconstruction of Great Britain at a cost of £1,000,000,000 ($4,890,000,000) has been advanced by Major Ernest Matthews, secretary of the Institute of Chartered Architects.

Matthews, who has enlisted the support of scientists, architectural experts and members of parliament, estimates the plan would absorb almost all the country's unemployed. Some of the projects under the proposed scheme:

Steel and concrete tunnels between Scotland and Ireland, by way of Port Patrick and Donaghadee, between England and the continent, by way of the Goodwin Sands, Hampshire, and the Isle of Wight, and across the mouth of the Thames and the Firth of Forth.

Concrete arterial roads throughout the country.

Rejuvenation of the canal system for economic transport in which speed is not essential.

Building of more than 1,000,000 new houses at £300 ($1,494) each.

Canada May Make Provision For A Legation At Brussels

Ottawa.—Changes in Canada's diplomatic corps of which intimation was given by Prime Minister Mackenzie King shortly after his return from Europe, will probably make provision for a Canadian legation in Brussels, headed by a minister plenipotentiary. Belgium set up a legation in Ottawa some months ago with Baron Silveverus as minister, and Canada is likely to reciprocate with an announcement this month.

While the policy of the government generally is for promotion within the diplomatic service, this is not always feasible. In addition to the staff in the department of external affairs in Ottawa there are only four others to be included in any reshuffle: London, Paris, Washington and Tokyo.

Any expansion such as a new legation at Brussels or high commissioners in the other dominions of the empire which has been suggested, would doubtless require drafting students in world politics from outside the service. It is understood that this is being given careful consideration by Mr. Mackenzie King and his colleagues.

Revision of the Franco-Canadian treaty, widening the quotas on Canadian goods by France and returning Canada waiving certain quotas against French products, was announced in Paris and Ottawa Saturday.

The next announcement dealing with trade treaties will probably be the revision of the Canada-New Zealand agreement on which it is learned good progress is being made, following the visit of Hon. Walter Nash, New Zealand finance minister, here on July 10 when he discussed revision with Trade Minister W. D. Euler.

Contracts for four mine sweepers and other defence equipment totalling some $5,000,000 have been under consideration by the ministry and definite action may come any day. Canadian yards are expected to get the contracts, possibly Halifax, Lewis, Collingwood and Port Arthur.

Forecast Direction Of Newsprint Industry In Quebec And Ontario

Chandler, Que.—Government direction of the newspaper industry in Quebec and Ontario was forecast by Premier Maurice Duplessis of Quebec in a public address here.

The Union National premier, speaking at the re-opening of the Chandler sulphate mill after seven years of idleness, said:

"I believe that with the co-operation of the Ontario government, which I think I shall obtain, the two governments will not administer but direct the newspaper industry."

Importance of the industry called for speedy action and the application of a measure of control, Premier Duplessis said. The matter already had been studied.

Duplessis warned Quebec industry that, while anxious to co-operate with it, he would "slap its wrist" if it got out of bounds.

A fault of business in this province, he declared, was that it wanted "to wear long pants before growing up." He said there had been abuses in over-capitalization and in other directions.

The premier again enunciated his government's policy that there must be no exportation of Quebec pulpwood so long as it could be used in the province. People willing to spend

Ship Destroyed By Fire

Steamer Chesapeake Burned, With Heavy Loss Of Life

Baltimore.—Fire destroyed the Chesapeake bay steamer, City of Baltimore, with a death toll which may include upwards of 50 missing passengers and members of the crew. As the burning ship turned into shallow water, its passengers and crew of upwards of 150 persons leaped overboard.

Residents of nearby Bayside Beach estimated about 100 reached shore safely.

Capt. Z. R. Lewis, Baltimore fireman, fishing net, pushed within 150 yards of the burning boat. He said about 50 persons, huddled in the bow, were screaming and pleading for rescue.

Two men, picked up along the shore at Bayside Beach, died en route to a Baltimore hospital. Neither was identified.

Aboard the steamer were many persons who were going to Norfolk for a weekend excursion. The boat was owned by the Chesapeake Steamship Company.

As the ship moved out by Seven Foot Knoll, about 14 miles from Baltimore, witnesses said, flames shot high in the air and spread over the entire vessel.

Coast guard, navy and private craft rushed to the scene to take off survivors.

Fears Grain Shortage

Germany Storing Up Supplies Of Wheat And Rye

London.—Faced with a sharp reduction in domestic production and cognizant of the possibility of a serious shortage in 1938, Germany has been storing up supplies of wheat, rye and other grains.

Wheat imports for the first five months of the present year exceeded 22,000,000 bushels at a cost of approximately $30,000,000 or an average of about $1.35 a bushel. For the corresponding period in 1936 imports were only about 2,000,000 bushels at an average price of 65 cents.

Rye imports also show an enormous increase, with a total of nearly 3,000,000 bushels against 600,000 bushels from January to June 1936.

Bomb-Proof Shelters

Survey London's Historic Buildings With A View To Protection

London.—Sir Philip Sassoon, first commissioner of works, informed the House of Commons that Westminster Abbey, Buckingham palace and the houses of parliament had been surveyed with a view to selecting gas-proof and bomb-proof shelters.

Preparations for putting the scheme into effect was now underway, he said.

Again In Wheat Market

Big Crop In United States Made Export Revival Possible
Chicago.—Fostering the biggest exportable wheat back-log of any of the competitor producing nations, the United States has re-entered the international market after an absence of two years.

The biggest United States wheat crop in six years, reputedly the most valuable in a decade—made this export revival possible. For more than a year the United States was an importer of wheat, particularly from Canada.

The first wheat-laden boats to leave the Chicago port in more than two years bound for overseas cleared the last 24 hours with 188,000 bushels for Europe via Montreal. Shippers said vessels that brought Argentine corn to Chicago were available to take wheat back to Montreal.

The first sale of southwestern wheat to Chicago on record was reported this week. With domestic prices 14c to 29c a bushel lower than Winnipeg quotations, it was reported wheat could be purchased at Kansas City cheaper than at Winnipeg despite transportation costs.

Stand By The League

British Arms Will Never Be Used For Anything Inconsistent With Principles

London.—"Great Britain's armaments," declared the Earl of Plymouth, under-secretary for foreign affairs, in the house of lords, "never will be used for anything inconsistent with the principles of the League of Nations covenant."

"The government's policy," he added, "will continue to be based upon membership in the league, which they would co-operate wholeheartedly in strengthening, both by enlargement of its membership and by the confidential loyalty of its members."

The house was discussing league reform, Lord Davies, Liberal, who raised the question, said he would like to see two kinds of league reform: (1) Moral reform expressed in the willingness of league members to pledge themselves to law and order; (2) Improvement and strengthening of the league machinery in order that it may carry out its responsibilities and obligations.

Would Smash China

London Editor Sees Plan Of Japan To Be Sinister

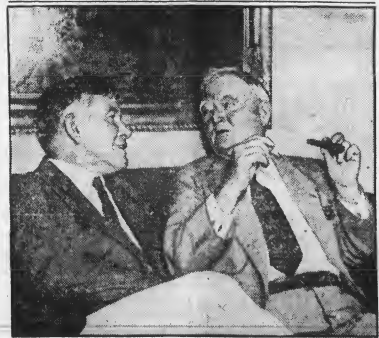

Victoria.—D. G. Crighton, of the editorial staff of the London Daily Telegraph, said on his arrival here from an extended Oriental trip that he believed "Japan is out to smash China."

Just debarked from the trans-Pacific liner "Empress of Canada," Crighton said he thought "the offensive by Chinese troops in the Peiping sector" would give Japanese forces the excuse they have been looking for to press further into China.

Crighton said recent clashes had been forced by Chinese public opinion. Premier Chiang-Kai-Shek was forced to put up a "front" in northern China, although his forces were not sufficiently strong to withstand advances by superior Japanese strength.

Salmon Treaty Ratified
Ottawa.—Canada and United States ratified conventions on the regulation of Pacific coast sockeye salmon and halibut fisheries, providing international commissions to control and regulate them. This was a formality only, the agreements having already been approved by the parliaments of the two countries.

Eliminate Smut

Hot Water Treatment Said To Be Effective In Ontario

Chatham, Ont.—Completion of wheat threshing on J. A. McGeachy's farm in Harwich township brought the first comparison of wheat treated to eliminate smut and untreated wheat. The treated wheat was smut free while the untreated wheat showed indications of the disease.

McGeachy harvested more than 30 bushels of wheat an acre. Hot water cut down the yield as shortly before the wheat was cut agricultural experts inspected the fields of treated wheat and estimated the standing crop at 50 bushels an acre.

Agricultural experts in charge of the treated wheat were satisfied with the results of the hot water treatment to eliminate smut. Hot water is applied to seed wheat in the treatment.

Move American Citizens

Anxiety For Safety Of United States Residents In Peiping

Washington.—The United States government may attempt to move approximately 675 American citizens out of strife-torn Peiping.

Mr. Hull, of the state department announced this possibility after the wounding of a United States marine demonstrated the danger to which foreigners are exposed in the fighting between Chinese and Japanese armies around the ancient capital.

Anxiety for the safety of Americans in Peiping increased with word that 10 or 15 had chosen to remain in their homes in a portion of the city where there was considerable artillery fire or bombing.

Dutch Airliner Crashes

All Passengers And Crew Were Killed Near Brussels

Brussels.—Fifteen persons were killed when a Dutch commercial airliner crashed at Hal near here.

The plane was on its regular scheduled run from Rotterdam and Brussels to Paris with 10 passengers and five of a crew, including a stewardess. All were reported killed.

The liner was said to have crashed in flames, apparently following an explosion in mid-air.

The passengers were Dutch, German, American and Mexican.

One version of the disaster said a sacrifice from one of the plane's motors ignited gasoline. Another said the ship was struck by lightning.

Complete Dawn To Dusk Flight From Montreal To Vancouver

Sea Island Airport, Vancouver.—

Another chapter of Canada's history was written in the skies as a big twin-motored plane traced a dawn-to-dusk airline across the greater part of the Dominion.

The chapter was completed when the metallic colored machine bearing Transport Minister Howe and others won a race with the sun and settled on the runway of Vancouver's island over the city (6:29 p.m. P.S.T.).

"Glad to be here," Mr. Howe was first to step from the airliner as it settled before the airport station after the history-making flight of nearly 3,000 air miles.

Tired after the 18-hour sky journey, other members of the party and crew had nothing to say immediately of the achievement. Following Mr. Howe out of the transport were Commander C. P. Edwards of Ottawa, H. J. Symington, director of Trans-Canada Airlines, Squadron Leader J. H. Tudhope, chief pilot; Co-pilot John Hunter of Vancouver and Engineer Lou Parmenter of Ottawa.

The big Lockheed monoplane wheeled over the airport and nosed in against the wind as it ended the last lap of the flight, from Lethbridge across the Rocky Mountains.

Keeping close to a tentative schedule, the plane landed three hours after taking off from Lethbridge. The people in mountain cities along the air route saw the silver machine as it passed Fernie, B.C., at 4:21 p.m., and at Trail and Grand Forks about an hour later. As it passed through the Kootenay section of the mountains it was flying through a patch of work of clouds.

Mr. Howe later expressed hope a regular air service would operate over the 3,000-mile route in the "not far distant future."

Mr. Howe said he didn't believe anyone in the plane "had an uneasy moment" from the time it took off from Montreal until it landed here 18 hours later.

The trip was taken with all confidence and safety," the transport minister said.

Mr. Symington described the flight as "a forerunner of swift, comfortable transportation."

Mr. Howe explained he had breakfasted in his Montreal hotel "rather early of course—and would dine here this evening."

While he "presumed" the flight was completed in the shortest time ever taken to travel between Montreal and Vancouver, he explained speed was not the main purpose of the flight.

The minister said he was mainly interested in reproducing actual conditions under which trans-Canada airliners will operate.

Purpose of making the flight was two-fold, he said. First he wanted to look over the work done by his department in planning the line and to inspect progress made in that direction.

A secondary purpose was to conduct work of his department in Vancouver without being away from Ottawa too long.

"By autumn the Montreal-to-Vancouver section of the airline will be completed as far as landing fields are concerned," he said.

As to the integral parts of the service would be "ready to function shortly," he added.

During the experimental journey "we had everything to insure a safe conclusion to the flight," he said. "We had tremendous confidence in our pilots and with a two-engine plane we were independent of engine failure."

B.C. Complaint

Protest To Ottawa Against Unfair Treatment

Victoria.—Hon. K. C. MacDonald, British Columbia agricultural minister, despatched a protest to Ottawa against alleged unfair treatment to British Columbia farmers under the federal government's arrangements for paying half the transportation costs on cattle bought in the prairie drought areas.

Mr. MacDonald said basis of the complaint was the Dominion authorities had not undertaken to provide free transportation for cattle brought to British Columbia, as they had for animals purchased in eastern Canada.

Last year transportation was provided for cattle being shipped both east and west, the minister said.

Rock Slide In Mountains

C.P.R. Traffic Temporarily Disrupted By Slows At Field

Calgary.—Heavy rains in the Rocky mountains caused a rock slide three miles east of Field, B.C., which covered the Canadian Pacific Railway's right of way for a distance of about 200 feet and disrupted telegraphic communication for more than an hour. Field is about 30 miles west of the Alberta border.

The rock fell from the side of Mount Stephen, a large, crumbly mountain overlooking Field. A place the slide was 60 feet deep, a statement issued by the general superintendent's office here said.

Better Understanding Between Britain And Dominions Is Urged

London.—Plea for an imperial policy of education so the dominions and colonies could understand each other was made in a speech given in the House of Commons in a debate on dominions' affairs.

The Empire Press Union did valuable empire service, although confined to technical details such as lowering of cable rates, said Hamilton Kerr, Conservative, who made the proposal.

What was needed, he added, was a committee in London comprising the dominions' high commissioners, leading members of the press, cinema and broadcasting interests to implement imperial publicity.

Kerr spoke after W. Pethick-Lawrence, Labor, provoked the discussion with criticism of results achieved by the imperial conference and a reference to conditions in Newfoundland.

What did the average Englishman know of Australia other than that it was a vast continent with immense areas of land suitable for making large fortunes from sheep-raising, Kerr asked. In future, he said, Australia must concentrate her efforts on secondary industries requiring mechanics and technicians rather than farmers.

Sir H. Page Croft, Conservative, sought empire settlement. Migration from Great Britain would be a great benefit to the dominions, he said, and British capital should be utilized in creating industries and devising other means of employing the immigrants.

Malcolm MacDonald, dominions secretary, assured the commons the government was watching closely several problems which had cropped up in the empire, including Ireland and the South African protectorates. He reiterated no transfer of the protectorates would take place until wishes of the local populations had been considered carefully and parliament had thoroughly expressed its views.

"I do not want to speak disrespectfully of a gathering of such eminent statesmen," said Pethick-Lawrence, as he referred to the imperial conference, during debate on third reading of the consolidated funds bill. "I have no doubt that many valuable advantages followed from the personal contacts. Yet the imperial conference for the most part was marking time. The results were very equivocal."

Turning to Newfoundland, Pethick-Lawrence declared conditions there were a disgrace to the empire. He demanded to know whether the commission of government had been appointed with a view to "improving the holdings of certain financial houses and vested interests, or whether for the far more important task of restoring prosperity."

It was untrue, MacDonald replied, that conditions in Newfoundland were worse than when the commissioners began work. Their first task, he said, was to salvage and stop collapse and the second was to build greater prosperity.

The first work was finished, he said. Taxation and customs duties had been reduced and customs revenue increased 35 per cent.
